Telecommunications Regulatory Commission to Launch Media Campaign

May 3, 2021 – The Telecommunications Regulatory Commission (TRC) has meticulously formatted a campaign to educate the Virgin Islands community about the Commission's functions.

In the coming weeks, the public can expect to hear about the TRC's mission to enable and facilitate the availability of adequate telecommunications infrastructure and services, ensuring the long-term benefit to residents and businesses in the Virgin Islands.

Adhering to international standards, after 15 years, the TRC is now able to review the licensing process for telecommunications operators. The focus is on the development of the industry and ensuring that the public's interest is protected.

The TRC is taking this opportunity to communicate with consumers on renewing the licenses with the most transparency.

The Commission's overall goal with this campaign is to create public awareness about the TRC's role within the industry, educate and inform persons about the licencing process for telecommunications service providers, and regain confidence in the Commission's operations.

The community must know that at the Telecommunications Regulatory Commission, We are here to serve you!

Note to Editors:

1. The Commission is the statutory body responsible for regulating the telecommunications sector of the Virgin Islands, protecting interests of users of telecommunications services, ensuring fair competition among operators of telecommunications networks and providers of telecommunications
